EDEN CANNED FOOD

Eden Canned Food is a company that produces and markets products in the food industry. The company manufactures and markets a variety of products including: tomato concentrate, pickled cucumbers, canned olives, peppers, legumes, vegetables, olive oil and more. Eden Food Industries was founded in the 1970s by the late Saeed Abu Sereyah who was a great visionary with extensive experience in the field of canned food industry. His uniqueness was reflected in a highly developed sense of taste, a heritage of quality, ambition and great business energy.

Mr. Saeed made a decision to establish a unique food factory based on these virtues.

Since its inception, the company has invested all the necessary efforts to further develop and advance its technology, quality and marketing.

The culture of quality and taste is a supreme value that has been assimilated in the company since its inception, and it guides its management and employees throughout each and every production stage. The factory management provides all the necessary resources to continuously improve quality, the professional level of its employees through courses and professional training, and constantly invests in advanced equipment according to international standards and performance. The production processes complies with national and international standards from the stages of receiving the raw materials, through processing, production, packaging and shipping.

Eden Canned Food provides its customers with a reliable and courteous professional service and is committed to meet all the requirements and expectations as a company that operates according to all strictest standards.

Excellence is a norm and a guiding principle of Eden Canned Food. It is reflected in the company's policy and practices - a company whose purpose is to continue to grow, evolve and progress in the years to come in the areas in which it engages, as well as in other areas.

The "Eden" brand is steadily and increasingly gaining ground in the Israeli and global market within a variety of leading and quality brands. nevertheless the company has set itself an ultimate goal to further progress and evolve and become well positioned amongst the leading companies and manufacturers both in the Israeli and global food markets.

The history of EDEN began back then in the 1970s when a man with a vision, ambition and plenty of experience in the food industry founded his factory, this was Mr. Saeed Abu Sereya. God bless his soul, he invested a lot of effort to promote and obtain high quality, technology and strategic marketing. Ever since, the company kept growing, developing new products and new markets locally and globally with the combination of innovation and tasty food. EDEN's products are all fresh from the field and undergo an advanced production process with special treatment for each vegetable. EDEN has a wide range of gourmet products like pickled cucumbers, olives, legumes, corn, sauerkraut, hot peppers, pickled, eggplant, tomato concentrate, pizza sauce and pepper puree. EDEN can also offer Private Label services.
